Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) Responsive to communication(s) filed on 08 December 2005.
- 2a) This action is FINAL. 2b) This action is non-final.

- 6) Other: _____.

Detailed Action

A request for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, including the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e), was filed in this application after final rejection. Since this application is eligible for continued examination under 37 CFR 1.114, and the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(e) has been timely paid, the finality of the previous Office action has been withdrawn pursuant to 37 CFR 1.114. Applicant's submission filed on 12-8-2005 has been entered.

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 18-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Cox.

With respect to claim 18, Cox teaches a management system (see figure 1) which includes management service providing apparatus (printer client 101) capable of communicating with a user communication apparatus 102 via a network 103:

said user communication apparatus 102:

image forming input means 114 as claimed;

problem details input means 108 for inputting details of the problem which occurred in said image forming apparatus;

display means 105 displaying said problem details and a list of concerning problem degrees

selection means (software program stored in RAM 106) for selecting a problem degree from the list;

transmitting means (processor 104) for transmitting said selected problem to the service apparatus;

said management service providing apparatus comprising:

receiving means (static memory 112) for receiving the problem degree from the communication apparatus;

analyzing means (processor 111) for analyzing said received problem degree.

With respect to claim 19, Cox teaches image forming input means 114 as claimed;

problem details input means 108 for inputting details of the problem which occurred in said image forming apparatus;

display means 105 displaying said problem details and a list of concerning problem degrees

selection means (software program stored in RAM 106) for selecting a problem degree from the list;

transmitting means (processor 104) for transmitting said selected problem to the service apparatus.

With respect to claim 20, Cox teaches receiving means (static memory 112) for receiving the problem degree from the communication apparatus.

With respect to claim 21, Cox teaches the image forming means 102.

With respect to claim 22, Cox teaches the method of controlling a apparatus which is capable of communicating with an external apparatus, comprising:

image forming input means 114 for performing the step of inputting information for identifying an image forming apparatus as claimed;

problem details input means 108 for performing the step of inputting details of the problem which occurred in said image forming apparatus;

display means 105 for performing the step of displaying said problem details and a list of concerning problem degrees

selection means (software program stored in RAM 106) for performing the step of selecting a problem degree from the list;

transmitting means (processor 104) for performing the step of transmitting said selected problem to the service apparatus.

With respect to claim 23, Cox teaches a computer readable program (stored in RAM 106) comprising program codes for controlling an apparatus which is capable of communicating with an external apparatus 101, comprising:

image forming input means 114 for performing the step of inputting information for identifying an image forming apparatus as claimed;

problem details input means 108 for performing the step of inputting details of the problem which occurred in said image forming apparatus;

display means 105 for performing the step of displaying said problem details and a list of concerning problem degrees

selection means (software program stored in RAM 106) for performing the step of selecting a problem degree from the list;

transmitting means (processor 104) for performing the step of transmitting said selected problem to the service apparatus.
